

Wegner steps down as circuit court judge

Served four years as chief judge

By Tony Scott

A former chief circuit judge who has spent much of his tenure in Kendall County announced his retirement this week.

Kendall County Judge Grant S. Wegner, a Yorkville resident who grew up in Oswego and graduated from Oswego High School, sent his letter of resignation to the Illinois Supreme Court and Chief Judge F. Keith Brown of the 16th Judicial Circuit this week, stating that he will retire effective Oct. 1.

Brown said Wegner brought a lot to the circuit, not only as a judge but also as a person.

“Grant Wegner will be missed, not just for his judicial capacity but also the brightness he brought to everybody’s life by being a very charming person, and a

